The detachment of Troy's Battery commanded by Sergt. Frank C. Veath won the competitive drill prize at Inspector-general's review.

The gatherers at Adams street and Fifth avenue were broken during the morning by a crowding account that resulted only in the loss of a few hats and hoop skirts.

The sale of tickets to the sports festival for next week commences next morning with every indication that the demand for seats will be unprecedented. The sale for general admission has been opened at Kinsley's, and the indications are that the first week will be a rushing one.

The Inland Stores, a bright, handsome, eight-page weekly, devoted to interior trade, made its appearance Saturday. The publication has the ball in hand, and promises to be of value to those seeking information of a trade character. The editor is Charles E. Hewitt, a well-known newspaper man.

William Davis, who presided Joseph Lester's face with home scientific, was fined $50 by Justice Boston Saturday. Davis, claimed that the prosecuting witness was operating the saloon, the other Lesters being merely sureties for his bond, and consequently Lester's fellow was not a proper person to be fined.

Joseph Adler, an old Irishman, undertook, and succeeded as a man of all work in J. B. Hardy on the sidewalk, the 2000 Wabash avenue, but has been sick at about 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon, and, in response to a summons, the Hon. Wabash avenue physician responded. Having examined the patient, he pronounced him suffering from a severe attack of apoplexy, and ordered him removed to his home, 2000 Wabash avenue.

Early yesterday morning an Michael Clark of No. 51 Clark street arrived at the Harrison street bridge on his way home from a night's carousal, and, in his usual way of his usual state. The bridge had not been open long before a passenger came up and offered to pay the toll. He paid the money, and Clark, after thanking him in unmeasured terms, started on his way. The passenger then walked off with the contents of the bridge-tender's pocket-book, and disappeared in the darkness.

The anti-monopolistic branch of the Citizens' Association held a cross-examining meeting last night at the rooms, No. 317 Lincoln avenue, Hon. William Lloyd, J. S. Morgan, Colonel Underhill, and others discussed the necessity of adopting the government scheme to the proposed work on Lincoln park for the purpose of securing to the whole the cost of the work, which is now to be borne by the property-holders adjoining the park, and a public discussion of the question will probably be given shortly.

Phoebus Bradley, the worker who, after shooting Mary Fox, the inmate of the house of ill-fame on the corner of Clark and Polk streets, where they were found the night upon which the shooting occurred, was found guilty of murder in the second degree and sentenced to the penitentiary for life by Judge Gary, was taken to the County Hospital yesterday, and a doctor was summoned to dress the wound in the left side of his head, which he received when he attempted to commit suicide by shooting himself in the head. The wound is not considered dangerous.

Early Sunday morning John Maguire, barkeeper at the Wise Lumber Company on Washington street, and Fred Clay, a teamster in the employ of the same concern, both young men and esteemed business associates in Chapin & Gore's saloon at Harvey and State Pleasure streets, but are being prosecuted on complaint of the police, who claim that the saloon was not closed at the proper hour. The case was brought before Justice Summers, and will be heard this morning.

J. D. Crampton was fined $200 in the Bail by a jury before Judge Gary, for the murder of Mrs. Mary Jane Fox, the inmate of the house of ill-fame on the corner of Clark and Polk streets, where they were found the night upon which the shooting occurred, was found guilty of murder in the second degree and sentenced to the penitentiary for life by Judge Gary, was taken to the County Hospital yesterday, and a doctor was summoned to dress the wound in the left side of his head, which he received when he attempted to commit suicide by shooting himself in the head. The wound is not considered dangerous.

A small number of Democratic Cabellic diners met at the St. Cloud Cafe last night, among those present were Mayor Carter Harrison, Hon. Lute Brown, and a number of other prominent Democrats. The object of the meeting was to discuss the question of providing a more suitable building for the large number of visitors that are in attendance at this season. They also discussed the question of the return of the remains of the late Mayor Harrison, and the appointment of a committee to go to Chicago to receive the remains. The meeting adjourned to meet at the same place next Monday night.

CIRCUIT COURT.

The Chicago Base Ball Association committee met yesterday afternoon at No. 120 West Madison street, W. A. Hulbert presiding. The first matter considered was the application of the Cincinnati club to be admitted to membership in the association. The application was received, and the club admitted. The next matter considered was the application of the Detroit club to be admitted to membership in the association. The application was received, and the club admitted. THE REV. D. H. VINCENT.

The Rev. D. H. Vincent, pastor of the Church of the Branch, corner of Michigan boulevard and Thirty-third street, preached yesterday morning on the subject of "Servants."

He did not intend to speak directly, he said, to the subordinates and unskilled laborers who congregated there. The occupations and trades of many of the congregation were on hand in the world great department of government and the occupation of men. These were grouped as originally followed by Solomon when workers of all sorts, a workman of native born, Hiram, King of Tyre, and the head workmen, and the head workmen were grouped according to their trades, a servant to religion was the going back after one had been standing guard and accustomed to the servitude. He then came back to the question of the servant being a servant of God, and the servant being a servant of man, and he said that he thought a man was capable of serving God and man at the same time, and he said that he thought a man was capable of serving God and man at the same time, and he said that he thought a man was capable of serving God and man at the same time
